Number 22

Solon E. Low Wins Warner Constituency

In harmony with the landslide to Social Credit of the entire Province, the Warner Constituency inclined its pencils the same way, and put Solon Low, Social Credit Candidate into power with an overwhelming majority over the other candidates.

In Raymond the voting was as follows:

Solon Low, Social Credit,	514
J. H. Walker, U.F.A.,	207
F. S. Leffingwell Lib.,	45
H. C. Moir Single Tax	7

Total 773

Spoiled Ballots 20.

This was nearly double the heaviest vote ever cast in the Raymond poll, with nearly 800 voters exercising their franchise.

The last recorded vote in the constituency gave the following totals:

Low, 1,611; Walker 563; Leffingwell, 504; Moir, 219.

MOTHERS AND DAUGHTERS OUTING

The Mothers and Daughters of the Raymond 2nd Ward held a very enjoyable Outing Wednesday afternoon on the lawns of the School of Agriculture, when about 60 or 70 Mothers and Daughters of the Ward gathered for the afternoon and spent the time in games of various kinds, a nice program and a delicious basket lunch.

Two prizes were given away; the one for the oldest mother present being won by Grandmother Anderson, and the one for the largest number of daughters and granddaughters of Mutual age present, was won by Mrs. Scoville.

The presidency of the Ward Y.M.M.I.A. had charge and everyone present had a splendid time.

Closing guns of the provincial campaign were heard here Tuesday night, when J.A. Johansen of Woodford and A. Smeaton of Lethbridge addressed a small crowd in the Second Ward Chapel in support of Jas. H. Walker, U.F.A. and John H. Blackmore and O. E. Lassiter spoke to a crowded hall in the High School Auditorium in support of Solon Low, who won the Constituency by a big majority.

THANKSGIVING DEFERRED SO CANADIANS CAN VOTE PREMIER BENNETT SETS OCTOBER 14 AS FEDERAL ELECTION DATE

Pushing aside Thanksgiving Day for nearly two weeks, Premier R. B. Bennett, has set October 14 as the date for the Federal election. Parliament was dissolved August 14, and almost immediately the Prime Minister called newspaper men into his office and announced the election date.

Mr. Bennett outlined in detail his difficulty in fixing a satisfactory election date. Originally the date had been set for September 30. Then it was learned the harvest was 10 to 15 days later than usual. The next date selected was October 7, and after this day was formally approved by cabinet council, it was discovered October 7 was the Day of Atonement, the most sacred of all Jewish religious observances, which would mean disfranchising of the Jewish people. Finally the government had decided to postpone election day until Monday, Oct. 14, as the most satisfactory date, Mr. Bennett declared.

NEWS NOTES

Thursday, August 22nd will be remembered for a long time by some people. It has been a hectic campaign.

Bacon hogs on the Calgary market last week went to 9c. butchers 8.50 and the selects to 9.50. Now is when we should have a hog or two to sell.

See "THE GLASS KEY" with Geo. Raft is a picture that is entirely different. See it at the Capitol Saturday.

Six were dead and many injured as the Atlantic liners Laurentic and Napier crashed in the Irish Sea in a fog. The two mammoth steamers crashed bow to bow, and were hauled back into port by tugs.

L. L. Pack is getting around again after having his shoulder broken last week at the farm. He was pulling the binder out of the shed to overhaul it, and was using just one horse, he holding the tongue. The tongue was flipped and hit him on the shoulder, breaking it, and necessitating several days in bed. We wish him a speedy recovery that he may again carry on his work.

CORRESPONDENCE

Raymond, August 23rd, 1935.
Editor Recorder,
Dear Sir:—

Please allow space in your columns for the following.

We congratulate Social Credit and Solon Low, our local candidate, on the victory obtained in the voting yesterday. We extend to them our heartfelt wishes for success in the furtherance of the ideals of the plan.

To those who assisted in the campaign in any way whatsoever we extend our thanks. It has been a pleasure to carry the campaign to the far corners of the Constituency, and to those who have so willingly assisted we owe a great deal.

James H. Walker, Candidate, and the Campaign Committee.

Congratulations to Aberhart and Supporters

(Editorial)

Bowled over like pins in a bowling match, candidates of the opposition were knocked either and yon in Thursday's election, in the greatest political landslide, ever to be recorded. Subject to official counts, Social Credit is given 59 seats in the Province, with only four against them, among these being W. R. Howson, Liberal leader, and Hon. J. F. Lymburn Attorney-General, both Edmonton seats, and possibly two others. In many constituencies, no second count will be necessary as Social Credit won with about a three to one count over all opposition.

To Mr. Aberhart and his fellow adherents we extend congratulations and best wishes, also our sympathy. We believe they will need it before they ever get their program into action. We have heard promises by the score in various election campaigns, but never anything even approaching the sweeping and wonderful promises of Social Credit, so we say, we offer them our sympathy and our sincere hope that they will find a way to put the program into action. There are tens of thousands of voters in Alberta, who from today will count the hours until they commence getting their basic dividends and if these are delayed very long, they will become just as restless with the new order as they were with the old, and will commence to call in no uncertain terms for action! Action! ACTION!

NEWS NOTES

Solon Low Social Credit, F. S. Leffingwell, Liberal Candidate, were both in town during the course of the voting on Thursday.

Nearly 800 votes were cast in Raymond alone Thursday, which is twice as many as have ever been cast in any election heretofore.

The smoke of the provincial battle will hardly have cleared away before the voters will be in the midst of another Dominion election campaign, and from all indications, this will be another hectic affair.

Harris Walker and other Raymond athletes are entering the events in the Sports Meet to be held at Taber on Labor Day, Sept. 3rd. Welburn VanOrman is Secretary of this Meet and entry blanks may be obtained from him.

Quarterly Conference Programme

While the Quarterly Conference to be held this week-end, is primarily a Relief Society and M. I. A. Convention and Institute, there will be a number of meetings at which the public will be welcomed and at which programs of interest to all will be carried out.

The first meeting will be the M.I.A. meeting at 8 p.m. Friday, and the public is invited to attend.

Saturday forenoon and afternoon will be especially devoted to Relief Society and Mutual Commencing with the very first returns released majorities for Social Credit were announced, and the tidal wave grew as the evening progressed until for a time it looked as though the New Order would function without a single opposition seat. In many constituencies the majority for Social Credit Candidates was five to one over all of the opposition combined. While it was conceded by nearly all that it would be a still fight, and that Social Credit candidates would be in the swim to the last, none, not even its strongest supporters expected such a landslide as the count has revealed.

The serious business connected with the election will be when the new party assembles to draft their plan, and then to see how far they can go without outside support and sanction. Heretofore the changes in party have only meant a slight change in program, and the business of Government has gone on unchanged. In the present election however, the results presage a complete change in set-up, in financial policies and systems, and in nearly every other avenue of government. Contrary to the statements of "it can't be done," and "it simply won't work," and numerous others, the Social Creditors are in the saddle in the arena, and the voters of Alberta are on the side lines to watch them make it work, and to share in the golden harvest that Aberhart has promised.

Defeated U.F.A. Candidate in the Warner Constituency in Thursday's voting.

Following an illness of about a year, during most of which she has been confined to the house, and of recent months, bedfast, Mrs. Mary Alice Barker Dahl, beloved wife of Arthur Dahl, passed away at 4 a.m. Thursday morning in her 58th year. She was a woman of sweet disposition and was loved and respected by all who knew her, and will be greatly missed in the community.

For many years of her life he was a school teacher, and many students all over Southern Alberta honor and revere her memory in this capacity. About ten years ago she married Arthur Dahl, and since that time with the exception of three years spent in Cardston they have made their home here, having recently completed a nice comfortable home in the south part of the town. For many years deceased and her husband have been workers in the Cardston Temple, where they made many friends through their contracts in that labor.

The funeral services will be held Saturday, at 1 p.m. in the Staka House, with the Second Ward Bishopric in charge.

NEWS NOTES

A heavy flow of oil and gas in the Watson Field near Lundbreck has aroused hopes of oil operators that here may be the second large oil field of the Province. The flow was encountered at a depth of 2,814 feet and estimated at one million feet of gas, at least enough to fire the boilers.

Quite a number of local people motored to Lethbridge Sunday afternoon for the afternoon session of Conference, and report an interesting and inspirational meeting, with Elder Melvin J. Ballard of the Council of the Twelve taking up most of the time.

Mr. and Mrs. John H. Blackmore returned home last week from the central part of the Province where John has been spreading the Social Credit doctrine speaking in 51 meetings while away. He is assisting the local Candidate now in the wind up of the campaign.

Elder Alvin Bullock and Evan Stringham of Wellington filled their home missionary appointment in the Raymond Second Ward Sunday evening, and spoke to an interested and attentive audience on "The Value of doing things which are asked," and "Present Day Evidences of the Book of Mormon."

THE SPIDER KNEW

We know a lot of people who would not hurt a spider because one of their ancestors 600 years ago helped so much in Scottish history, and we are with them. If ever a spider is come across, it is gingerly frightened away. But some people consider them as a sign of good or bad luck. Mark Twain, the celebrated American humorist, once edited a newspaper, and he received word from an old subscriber that he had found a spider in the paper. Was that meant for good or bad luck?

"Old Subscriber"—Finding a spider in your paper was neither good luck nor bad luck for you. The spider was merely looking over your paper to see which merchant is not advertising, so that he can go to that store, spin his web across the door, and lead a life of undisturbed peace ever afterward!

WILL IT END IN WAR?

This was the question on nearly everyone's lips Monday evening, following the announcement that the Tri-party meeting between Italy, France and Great Britain had broken up, without any peace proposals being accepted, and with Italy about ready to withdraw from the League of Nations, because she considered as useless any further discussions on the Italo-Ethiopia situation.

The gravity of the situation between these two nations has assumed gigantic proportions in the eyes of Europe, not only because, if war is declared, it will mean war between two strong and determined nations, but because many of the outstanding statesmen of Europe have expressed the fear that it might mean a war between the black and white races of the world; and it takes no stretch of imagination on the part of any history student to visualize what that may mean.

Both nations have expressed their determination if hostilities break out, to carry the conquest to the limit. Baron Atoisi, spokesman for the Duce stated that Italy "had studied the situation very closely and were perfectly assured, Italy had plenty of men and plenty of money, and could see no prospect of diplomatic channels settling their difficulty." The Emperor of Ethiopia, on the other hand, states he is willing to cede territory lying along Italian Colonies to Italy, and to make concessions, but his country has always been free and independent.

ent and is determined to continue this freedom. If the men are all used up in the struggle, the women will go into the lines and carry on the fight.

It is regrettable indeed, in the face of our touted civilization of the present day, that misunderstandings such as these cannot be settled without the needless shedding of blood and sacrificing of human lives. And, after all, what is gained by these bloody conflicts. Are nations, like men, not to be trusted with power and ability to do. Some men wreck their lives, as soon as they gain power to demand and command. Nations, it seems, are the same. Germany, in 1914 seeking what she termed her place in the sun, saturated the earth with the best blood of the nations, and what was accomplished that was worthy of the price?

So, in the present argument the requisition of a few thousand acres of Italy for expansion that she deems essential, or the sacrificing of it by Ethiopia, a settlement either way, in fairness to the two interested parties, would not be worth as much to the winner or the loser as our human life. And yet, because we sit on the outside and see only our own side of the picture, and refuse to see the other person's viewpoint, we go on arming to the teeth, preparing to sacrifice that which no amount of money can ever replace, the young manhood of our various nations, to acquire what we believe to be our rights and our status.

Where is our supposed civilization and intelligence?

EVER FEEL UNAPPRECIATED OR PERSECUTED

(By J. E. Price)

Two deaths, one natural, the other self-inflicted furnish the mental PUSH for this editorial.

The self inflicted death was perpetrated by none less than the great Ray Long who didn't appreciate his own greatness. A man who climbed up in the writing world to the point where he held down the editor's chair in the Cosmopolitan offices for thirteen years should not have become disgusted with himself to the point of suicide simply because he could not get a scenario accepted by the movie magnates. His experience as an editor should have assured him that many reasons besides lack of merit often hold a man down.

No man should ever let others' lack of appreciation of his good qualities make him "second the motion."

Ray reminds us of "the Half Wags" in the play "Outward Bound." They had committed suicide. Preparations had not been made for them in the world of departed spirits and so they had to ride back and forth, back and forth on the boat which plys the stream 'twixt earth and heaven.

Ray's suicide was sharply contrasted on the same news page by the account of the life of Alfred Dreyfus who died last week at 75 having outlived most of those who not only failed to appreciate him but also cruelly persecuted him.

In 1894 Dreyfus was court martialled and unfairly convicted of selling French military secrets to Germany. Friends felt he was innocent and worked for a new trial. In spite of rank injustice and persecution he outlived many of his persecutors and made much of his life.

Outward things can at best but stimulate the spirit of joy within.

SEASON'S BIGGEST VALUE

WEEKLY LETTER

LEAVE FALL WEED
GROWTH ON SUMMERFALLOW
TO AVOID SOIL DRIFT

It is a well known fact that the two chief reasons for summerfallowing are the conservation of moisture and the destruction of weeds. All farmers realize that when weeds are allowed to grow and ripen on improperly summer-fallowed land the quality of the grain crop produced the succeeding year will be depreciated on account of a high weed seed content. All farmers realize also, to some extent at least, that weeds extract from the soil moisture and plant food which should be left available for the crop. In an endeavor, therefore, both to conserve moisture and to destroy weeds, it is very often the common practice of many of the best farmers to keep their summer-fallow free from weed growth throughout the entire summer and fall months. This undoubtedly is an indication of thoroughness or good farming, and it gives the fields a more attractive appearance, but in many cases it would be more advisable to dispense with that neatness and leave a certain amount of weed growth on the summer-fallow for winter protection against soil drifting.

If all weed growth is kept under control until the first of August, few, if any weeds will mature after that date. There will generally, however, be sufficient growth of weeds to act as a covering for the ground and protect it in some measure at least from soil drifting. It is true that the weeds will extract a small amount of moisture but this loss will generally be more than offset by the protection which the weeds afford.

After the time this letter appears in print it will be advisable to let all weed growth remain on the summer-fallows, provided they are not sufficiently far advanced to form seed, even though the land may be crusted firmly from recent rains.

Where weeds such as Canada thistle are being controlled by summer-fallowing it will, of course, not be advisable to follow this practice of leaving a fall covering of weeds, since it is necessary to keep the land black throughout the whole season in order to control them.

In considering the handling of summer-fallows during the late summer and autumn season one should also take into account the advice of the entomologists in regard to precautions against damage from Pale Western cutworms. Their advice is as follows:

TREATMENT OF SUMMER-
FALLOW TO AVOID LOSS
BY PALE WESTERN CUT-WORM THE FOLLOWING
SEASON

"Pale Western cutworm moths select a dusty soil surface for egg-laying, but have been found to avoid soil which is crusted, even if the crust is cracked. In view of this habit of the moths the soil should be left undisturbed by cultivation or roaming livestock during the period of August 1 to September 15. The weed growth on these fields should be destroyed during July so that they will be perfectly free of growth by August 1. Weeds in themselves do not attract the moths, but if they are large and branching, they may break some of the crust beneath. This is not likely to occur if the field is

NEXT DROUTHS ARE FORETOLD

Washington, Devasting droughts such as that of 1934, may in the future be predicted years ahead as accurately as tomorrow's weather is now forecast.

Dr. C. G. Abbot, secretary of the Smithsonian Institution and outstanding authority on radiation of the sun, announced today new results of his studies of the effect of variations in the sun's rays on the earth's weather which hold great promise for long-range weather forecasting. Analysis of his data shows he secretly predicted the 1934 drought with a high degree of accuracy.

He has established a definite 23-year cycle of weather changes which is apparently dependent on a double sun-spot cycle in solar radiation. In this cycle temperature and rainfall at numerous points over the earth's surface of the earth approximately duplicate conditions at the same points 23 years. Dr. Abbot was quick to point out that the repetition would not follow exactly from month to month each 23 years, but that in general normal or abnormal weather could be expected to recur at approximately that interval. Thus another major drought may be expected to occur in 1957.

Bill Christensen was busy over the week-end getting his separator ready for the fall run. While he is threshing F. Terry is running his truck on the gravel contract at Picture Butte.

Free of weeds on August 1.

YOU CAN'T STOP STOKING A STEAM ENGINE -- SAID WRIGLEY

Interviewed, and asked to what he attributed his phenomenal success, the late Mr. Wrigley, of chewing gum fame, replied, "To the consistent advertising of a good product."

"But," asked the reporter, "having captured practically the entire market, why continue to spend vast sums annually in advertising?"

Wrigley's reply was illuminating.

Once having raised steam in an engine, he stated, it requires continuous stoking to keep it up. Advertising stokes up business and keeps it running on a full head of steam.

This applies to YOUR business, too. Don't make a secret of your product. Tell people about it. Tell them what it does. Tell them its advantages. Tell them where to get it. Tell them through the Press and keep on telling them.

EUROPE'S NEW DIET

I am writing to you at present from a great distance—Europe, where I have come to spend a little leisure time in rest and relaxation. Bridesles-bains is a favorite watering place of mine, and I enjoy seeing the beautiful and fashionable women of the Continent finding their way back to health and beauty in this lovely spot.
 Rest, for me, usually means a few weeks of very strict dieting. It does so much toward taking off superfluous flesh, and renewing that lithe, gay feeling of a body rid of poisons and fatigue. A diet must be considered from a health point of view as well as from its value as a reducer.

I am going to tell you of a diet which is quite "the rage" just now. Women of fashionable Europe are following it closely. However, no one must attempt any kind of a diet without permission from her personal physician.

The diet I speak of is called the 'peach diet.' It means that you will eat for one meal, each day, just a pound of peaches—see that they are ripe and lucious, and filled with rich juices.

Then, for the other meal—dinner at night—you will eat meat and two vegetables, not of course, including potatoes. I like cucumbers, boiled or raw, as one of these vegetables. But they may be changed for variety, and fish may be substituted for the meat now and again.

No water is drunk, but the thirst may be quenched with grape juice or lemon juice.

In three weeks you can take off a great many pounds. Some have taken off as much as twenty

But avoid that wan look, which dieting is so apt to bring into the face, by providing nourishment for the skin of face and neck with a rich youthifying tissue cream. This is particularly important during dieting, so that the skin may be kept firm and smooth.

WILL HE NEVER LEARN.

She—"Why don't you like girls?"

He—"They're too biased,"
 She—"Biased?"

He—"Yes, bias us this and bias that, until I'm broke."—

Rovers Go A'Roving

Here are five Canadian Rover Scouts on board the Canadian Pacific liner Duchess of York, in which they sailed from Montreal to attend the World Rover Moot being held this year in Sweden. Eastern and Western Canada are represented by the five, who, left to right, are: L. P.
 Dominik, of Peterboro, Ont., Allan
 Hiron, of St. Paul, Alta., A. B.
 Patterson, sea scout, of Oshawa,
 Ont., Kingston Webber, of Edmonton, and A. C. Kessler, of Saint John, N. B.

 The Canadian Rovers will form part of a British contingent of 1,500 attending the Rover Moot, or nearly half the entire number expected to attend. They will be in camp for six days at the Moot headquarters on Ingaroo Island, not far from Stockholm. Elaborate preparations have been made by the Swedish Rovers, hosts of the gathering, who are headed by Prince Gustaf Adolf, oldest son of the Crown Prince of Sweden. The camp will have a fire brigade, telephone system, post-office, hospital and will publish a daily newspaper in the four official languages of the Moot, English, French, German and Swedish.

 The Swedish Moot will be the second World Rover Moot. The first was held in Switzerland in 1931. Two of the five Rovers in the above picture, A. C. Kessler and Allan Hiron, attended the 1931 Moot.

PARENTS

Give your Child
 this Advantage

SOMETHING every parent of a growing child should know—a survey of 10,000 school children has proved that a typewriter, used for homework, improves general school work enormously. Spelling, reading and composition are especially bettered. Why deny your child this help, when it costs so little?

Not only your children, but you, and all your family, will enjoy using the Remington Portable Typewriter at home.
